

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples believe that spirit is all around, in the trees, the sky, the earth, the rocks, the waterhole.

Stories connect us through The Dreaming.

Blank writing area for the question: What does dreaming mean to me?

What does dreaming mean to me?

Ask somebody from your community such as an Elder, cousin or friend what The Dreaming means to them. For more fun activities, go to www.aboriginalchildrensday.com.au/resources

FOLDLINE

DESIGN AND COLOUR-IN THE FEATHERS TO MAKE YOUR HEAD DRESS

Celebrate

National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Children's Day 4 August 2022

www.aboriginalchildrensday.com.au

Cultural ceremony is important to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures. Design and share your videos with @SNAICC on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram.

Deep Listeninos

Pulkara Kulintja

Colour in Cody and Casey as they show how to care for Country by deep listening

The Girls Can Boys Can Project shows equal and respectful relationships between girls and boys, so that kids can thrive and grow up to be whoever they want to be free from discrimination.

For more information visit tangfamilyviolenceprevention.com.au

